

Edward G. Galante

Retired Senior Vice President and Management Committee Member ExxonMobil Corporation

Director Since 2018

Mr. Galante is retired senior vice president and management committee member of ExxonMobil Corporation.

Mr. Galante served as senior vice president and a member of the management committee of ExxonMobil Corporation from 2001 until his retirement in 2006. Previously, he held various management positions of increasing responsibility during his more than 30 years with ExxonMobil Corporation, including serving as executive vice president of ExxonMobil Chemical Company from 1999 to 2001.

Mr. Galante holds a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering from Northeastern University.

Mr. Galante is on the boards of directors of Celanese Corporation and Clean Harbors, Inc. He also serves on the boards of directors of Artis Naples and the United Way Foundation of Metropolitan Dallas and is a vice chairman of the board of trustees of Northeastern University.