

Midstream (Gathering & Processing Engineering) Internship/Co-op Opportunities at MPC

MPC & MPLX OFFERS STUDENTS ACROSS THE COUNTRY MEANINGFUL INTERNSHIPS AND CO-OPS THAT PROVIDE THE KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE YOU NEED TO BECOME SUCCESSFUL IN YOUR FUTURE CAREER.

WHAT WE DO

MPLX is a diversified, large-cap master limited partnership formed by Marathon Petroleum Corporation (MPC) that owns and operates midstream energy infrastructure and provides fuels distribution services. The company owns natural gas and natural gas liquids (NGL) processing and fractionation facilities in key U.S. supply basins. MPLX includes the operations of the Midstream Gathering & Processing segment.

The MPLX Gathering & Processing segment operates several natural gas gathering systems with the scope of services provided dependent on the composition of the raw or untreated gas. Our natural gas processing complexes remove the heavier and more valuable hydrocarbon components from natural gas. We also sell basic NGL products, including ethane, propane, normal butane, isobutene, natural gasoline and other primary products such as ethylene and propylene.
